

Technology Assessment

Emerging Markets and Risk Assessment

Tiger Venture Analysis provides a wide range of technology assessment services. Long range business planning requires a careful analysis of current product features with respect to competitors and marketplace requirements as well as an assessment of product extendibility projected onto future market requirements. We will work with your team to analyze and perform a gap analysis of current and future product capabilities with respect to likely market forces. We will help to develop strategies and options to properly position your products through continued internal development or through strategic outside acquisition or partnering.

Due Diligence Services

Mergers & Acquisitions

Tiger Venture Analysis provides technical due diligence services to organizations engaged in M&A activities. As an outside consultant, we can provide an objective and unbiased view of the technical assets and liabilities of the deal. We will work with the Teams of both parties to collect, analyze, and present the strengths, weaknesses, and compatibility of the technologies in question. We will work with the financial and legal Teams to ensure that the deal is properly analyzed for intrinsic value and possible liabilities. As veterans of several due diligence projects, we understand the tight time constraints and will allocate the time required to complete these important tasks.

Roadmap Development

Technology and Marketing Roadmap Alignment

Tiger Venture Analysis offers assistance in the development, planning, and execution in the alignment of Technology and Marketing roadmaps with industry and Customer standards. Your available resources must be properly allocated to maximize your profit and ensure future viability. We will work with your Teams to ensure that your development and improvement roadmaps are properly aligned with your most strategic Customers and the industry in general. As an outside contractor, we can offer a more objective and analytical view to roadmap alignment that is used to enhance and compliment the roadmaps developed in-house. This is an especially critical step to focus the resources of a new start-up venture.

Business Development

New Product and Strategic Business Development

Tiger Venture Analysis offers services in the development, drafting, and planning of New Product Introductions and Business Plan Development. This step is critical for companies or business units that are in the “start-up” phase. We will partner with your Marketing and Technology Teams to ensure that the marketing requirements accurately represent the needs of the market. These requirements will drive the engineering effort and will have a large impact on the time and cost of the product development phase. The marketplace will not accept a product that is launched and missing a critical requirement. A product that has been “over-engineered” because of too many requirements will generally be late to market and miss the cost target.

Intellectual Property

IP Analysis, Planning, and Drafting

Tiger Venture Analysis can assist in the development of a strategic plan regarding IP assets. The high costs and time commitments required for properly prosecuting and enforcing Intellectual Property demand that the inventions be considered important corporate assets. The budget allocated to the prosecution and enforcement of IP must be carefully spent. We will work with your Team to capture, document, and draft an IP strategy that protects your IP assets while striving to minimize costs.

We can also aid in the preparation of Invention Disclosure documents and patent application drafts which can then be submitted to your Patent Attorney. This is a cost effective means to maximize your IP expenditure.
